Er, so, good afternoon, everyone. So, today we're going to talk about ... we're having a school funfair and we're talking about ... selling super-sized food. So, ... ~~I think~~ ... personally, I think super-sized food ~~are~~ is not ~~being~~ popular in Hong Kong ~~because~~ ... due to the ... ~~heavily~~ heavy emphasis on ~~health~~, health eating in Hong Kong by the education from the government. So, I think ... people in Hong Kong ~~tend to~~ ... tend to eat things with less fat, less calories and less cholesterol. And with this kind of good ... eating habit, I think super-sized food is too much for them and that causes them ... ~~hatred towards the~~ to dislike super-sized food. So, what do you think?

C:

Erm, adding to ... candidate A's point, I would like to ... stress that ... I believe that super-sized meals are actually becoming more popular in Hong Kong. Erm, although it may be said that ... ~~they are~~ ... Hong Kong people are more aware of their health and ... super-sized food may not be a very ..... wise diet for them, ~~but actually~~ ... ~~they~~ super-sized food can be shared with friends, ~~with the super-sized food like~~ ... the ... in the data, the picture 1, which is ..... a sushi roll which is very big. But actually, a family can share it with each other ~~for a diet~~ as a meal, so ... I think it is also possible for them to eat like this.

D:

I agree with candidate C's point of view. Erm, super-sized food ~~are~~ is not necessarily unhealthy. So ... I believe that with the advancement of technology, there is the emergence of social networking sites, so ... teenagers can upload photos of those super-sized food ... ~~in~~, onto the social networking sites s and show off ... to their peers. Erm, so I believe that ... these super-sized foods s can become more and more popular ... among teenagers as teenagers ... teenagers are using more and more social networking sites nowadayss.

B:

Er, however, I believe that ... not many shops or restaurants are currently going to offer ... super-sized meals in Hong Kong because ... ~~as~~, as you've just said, ... most of those ~~who~~, who order super-sized meals are those of the younger generation. And only those restaurants that cater to these people will usually offer such ... catering sizes, for example, McDonald's which has super-sized ... soda and also French fries. So, ... I think for normal restaurants, ~~they will still think that~~ ... they'll still have to cater to their normal ... eaters ~~and~~ ... and think that these super-sized meals are not as healthy as they should be. Erm, and for the pros of super-sized meals, I would definitely think that as I've just said, ..... it would create an image that the restaurant is very ... advanced, they look ... to the future, they're young, ~~they're~~, they appeal to the young people. Er, however, I think that the cons ~~will~~, will definitely be ... be them being labelled as an unhealthy shop, ... one that spreads ... an unhealthy message to those around them. So, ... I think this is something that we have to think about.

C:

Erm, I agree ~~to your point~~ with you that for the advantage that we ... operate ... of using super-sized meals to attract customers is that ... super-sized meals is ... ~~is going like~~ are becoming ... more ... globalized because, like ... they're copying the Western ... form of super-sized food which can attract more customers because nowadays Hong Kong is also a, like ... ~~is going to under~~, under entering the age of globalization. But at the same time, I think that the disadvantage of super-sized food is that ... for a single person who comes to our shop, ~~may not be able~~ ... we may not be able to cater for their his or her preference because super-sized food is, like, way too much for, for a person to eat. But ..... if, like, for a group of friends or family, I think it's ... quite a good idea.

D:

Erm, I believe that another ~~pros~~ pro of using super-sized meals to attract customers s is ~~to~~ ..... that it can encourage the bonding between family members as ~~the~~, the family needs to share the meal ~~within one another and each~~ ... with one another and they need to ... choose the food ~~that~~ ... that is suitable for all the family members. So I believe that this can strengthen the bonding between friends and family and this definitely ~~provide a better~~ enhances the reputation ~~for~~ of the restaurant.

A:

Well, I would like to add some points s on ... what candidate D said on the pros and cons. Because ... profit-wise, I think ... super-sized foods s are actually cheaper because ... when restaurants ~~start to~~ ... order a large amount of food, they can lower the price a lot. And so, I think the cheap price of super-sized food can really encourage people ~~to~~ ... to buy the food there in the restaurants. But at the same time, like what candidate B said, I think it really creates an ~~image~~, image that the restaurant is not helping, is not supporting the people's health at all. So, maybe we should move on to what kind of super-sized food our group ~~should~~ ... should ... serve ... ~~the super-sized food~~ to our customers. So, I think ... what we see in the source ... I think picture 1 is quite good because it's primarily made up of rice and seaweed, which may not have such a high calorie ... amount, so I think ... it is super-sized, it is young, it is fashionable, but at the same time, it is quite healthy.

B:

I think when we consider what kind of super-sized food ~~that~~ we are going to offer, the first thing that we should consider is something that is ... easily suitable for everyone ... so that they can share ~~the food~~, the super-sized food they order and they won't waste food or be labelled as unhealthy. And I think ... something like salad would be good because, well ... in many western families, ~~they~~ ... they often cook ... or prepare a ~~large~~, a large dish of salad and then, ... family members will share ~~between~~ among themselves, so I think this will also ... encourage the family bonding, as ... candidate D has just said. And ... it is also quite healthy as it is ... made of ... vegetables.

C:

Erm, candidate B has mentioned a very good point that we can ... prepare ~~some~~ food which is healthy ~~as well~~ so that we can solve the problem of an unhealthy image ~~or~~, which brings a rather bad reputation to us all. So, ... apart from ... having a salad ... which is in super size, I believe that a dessert is also ~~a~~, a very good ~~point~~ idea, because nowadays many ... ~~young~~, youngsters may like to share desserts with friends ~~with their desserts~~ and ... it's a very good time for ... the bonding between friends or even family. So, a dessert may be ... another choice for us to ..... ~~decide~~ consider.

Erm, I believe that desserts ... with low sugar content should be more suitable because ... it won't be labelled as unhealthy. So, ... apart from desserts, I believe that ... the sushi roll ~~in~~ ... in the data ... can also ~~be our~~, be another alternative because ...

teenagers usually like ... sashimi or ... sushi, those ... Japanese food, ~~so~~ and ... these ... fish ..... do not carry, ~~does not carry~~ ... high cholesterol content or fat content. So, I believe that ... these foods s are healthy, as well as attractive to the different teenagers.

A:

Yeah, well, I would like to add a point on candidate D's view, as ~~he mentioned~~ about the fish and sushi. I think ... we can also promote ... the ... healthy lifestyle by promoting ... super-sized sushi because ... as we all know, ... sushi ... with ... salmon has a lot of omega-3 content, ~~which is~~ ... which can promote ... the large amount of ... absorption of ... omega-3. And I think this can ... boost our image as a good and responsible super-sized restaurant. Thank you.
